It is a fact that Japan Lilium Longiflorum have proved a most desirable substitute for Lilium Harrisii for late or Easter flowering because of their comparative freedom from disease. While they are later blooming than Harrisii florists should experience no trouble to bring them into flower in good time since Easter does not occur in 1900 until fifteen days later than in 1899. This should alone be a grand incentive to grow them, as there is not the slightest doubt regarding their being in bloom at that time.

This is a splendid Rose for covering banks and rockery, where nothing else will grow.

TWO USEFUL NOVELTIES.

Double Pink Memorial Rose.

There is nothing in Roses introduced in recent years that has proved such an innovation or so valuable as the Japanese trailing Rosa Wichuriana or the "Memorial Rose." This variety is a seedling from Wichuriana, carrying with it all its beautiful characteristics in every respect, with the exception of the flowers, which are very double, two to two and a half inches in diameter and are of the brightest and most cheerful rosy pink, its fragrance is delightful, being distinct from that of any other rose.

Double White Memorial Rose.

This is identical to the pink flowered variety, only that the flowers, are white, being produced in such multitudes as to literally envelop the plant. They are a little smaller in size than the pink, but on account of their numerous clusters of flowers they are equally beautiful.

Both are perfectly hardy and appear to thrive in any location. They will be found useful to cover banks and to plant where other plants will not grow. For pot plants they are unsurpassed.
